

Sun Blade™ 2000 and SunPCi™ III Cards: Installing the Required Card Guide

To safely use a SunPCi™ III card with a Sun Blade™ 2000 system, you must install a special card guide to secure the SunPCi III card properly into place. This document describes how to install the card guide properly to secure the SunPCi III card.

Note – This process is only required if you install the SunPCi III card yourself. If the SunPCi III card was preinstalled in your Sun Blade 2000 system, this installation guide and process is not applicable.

What Is in This Package?

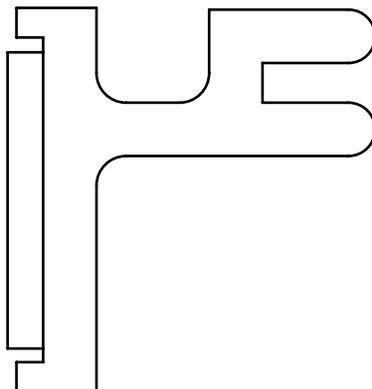

This package contains the following:

- This documentation detailing how to install the card guide into the Sun Blade 2000 system
- Card guide to secure the SunPCi III card
- Template used to position the card guide

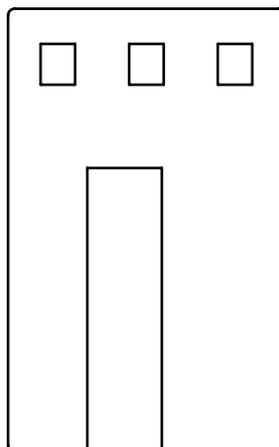

Installing the Card Guide and Template

To install the card guide into your Sun Blade 2000 system, you must do the following:

1. Shut down and power off your system.
2. Remove the system cover.
3. Remove the card guide from the package included with this document, which looks similar to the following.

4. Remove the template from the package included with this document, which looks similar to the following.

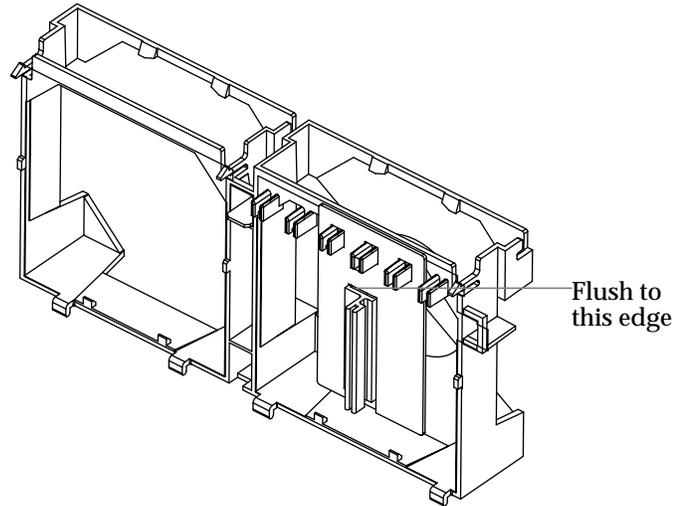

5. Place the template into the Sun Blade 2000 system, which looks similar to the following.

Note – Place the template so that the middle square of the template fits into the third fan guide from the right.

6. Remove the card guide adhesive backing and position the card guide within the vertical cutout of the template flush against the top cutout edge of the template (as shown below).
7. Apply pressure for 15 to 20 seconds to permanently secure the card guide to the fan hub.
When completed, the card guide should look similar to the following.

8. Remove the template and discard it.

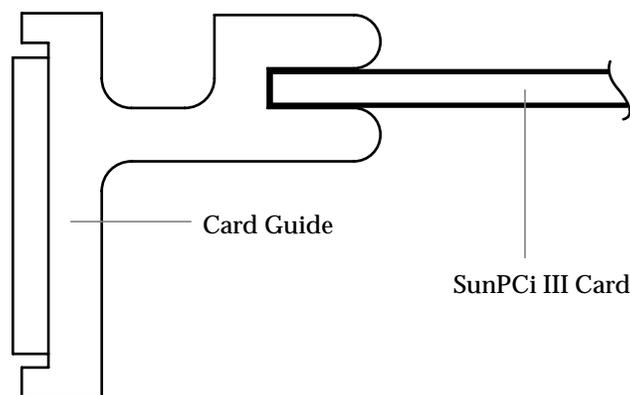

Caution – You must remove the template after installation or you will seriously damage your system.

9. Install the SunPCi III card into your Sun Blade 2000 system.

Refer to the SunPCi III Quick Start Installation Guide (817-0358-10) for specific information about installing a SunPCi III card and the Sun Blade 1000 and Sun Blade 2000 Service Manual (816-3217-10) for specific information about a Sun Blade 2000.

10. When installing the SunPCi III card, make sure that the rear edge of the SunPCi III card slides into the slot in the card guide.

When completed, the card guide and SunPCi III card should fit similar to the following.
