Sun Virtual Desktop Connector 1.0 Release Notes

The Sun Virtual Desktop Connector (VDC) connects desktop infrastructure technologies such as Sun Ray Server Software 4.0 and Sun Secure Global Desktop 4.4 with virtualization servers such as VMware® Virtual Center to enable users to access the same virtual desktop from thin clients, web browsers, or other devices. It also provides many functions for the creation and management of virtual desktops and virtual machines. A fuller description is contained in the Sun Virtual Desktop Connector 1.0 Installation and Administration Guide, available at:

<http://docs.sun.com/app/docs/doc/820-3021>

These notes contain important information about the Sun Virtual Desktop Connector 1.0 available at the time of release, including requirements and supported platforms as well as known issues and workarounds, technical notes, and pointers to additional resources. Be sure to read this document before you begin using the Sun Virtual Desktop Connector.

Known Issues

Note – See “Troubleshooting” on page 33 of the Sun Virtual Desktop Connector 1.0 Installation and Administration Guide for solutions to common problems not listed here.

VDC Agent and Localized Versions of Windows OS (Bug ID 6672100)

The VDC agent installer does not install the agent on non-English language versions of Windows by default. It is unable to find the VMware certificate (`rui.crt`) needed for communication with Web Access because detection of the path where it is located is not language-independent.

The workaround is to perform the following steps after you install VirtualCenter but before you install the VDC agent on a non-English version of Windows:

1. Create a folder named Application Data under

`C:\<localized Documents and Settings>\All Users\`

The use of italics in strings such as `<localized Documents and Settings>` is meant to indicate that these names differ in each localized language. The word localized is not meant to be part of the actual localized name.

2. Copy the complete directory, including subdirectories, from

`C:\<localized Documents and Settings>\All Users\<localized Application Data>\VMware to this new folder, i.e., to:`

`C:\<localized Documents and Settings>\All Users\Application Data`

3. Run the VDC agent installer as usual.

Netscape

The Admin GUI does not support Netscape 4.x.

VMware VirtualCenter

The memory usage details for a cluster are sometimes denoted with a minus sign (“-”) and the ToolTip message Not Available in the Admin GUI. This is caused by a bug in VMware VirtualCenter, in which the memory usage for a Resource Pool is given as a negative number when the usage exceeds a certain amount.
